Notes:

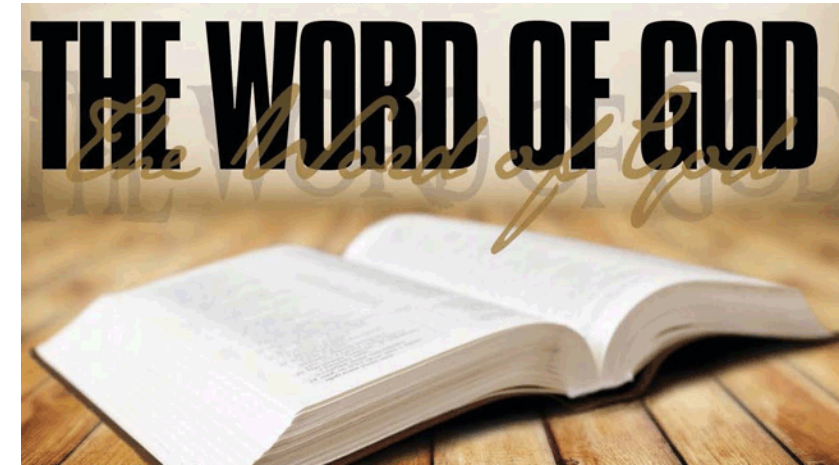

We have a “blended” worship service because God is the God of all ages. This is reflected in the various parts of our worship service, and the variety of music.

“Good, Good Father” written by Pat Barrett and Anthony Brown. This song illustrates the tension between who the world thinks God is and the truth of who He really is as our Father and that His nature is good! We can rest knowing that He is pleased with us, He is kind and that we are never alone!

‘I Stand in Awe’ – written by Daniel Grul, John Ezzy, & Steve McPherson. A simple chorus from Australia, the chorus cries out to God the ‘I love you, I need you . . . I will worship you until the very end.’ Made popular by one of the international gospel community’s best contemporary worship leaders, Darlene Zschech who is also widely associated with the praise song ‘Shout to the Lord’.

“Open My Eyes, That I May See” – written by Clara Scott. She began teaching music when she was eighteen years old. God expanded her ministry through her instrumental and vocal compositions. Her eyes and ears were open to God’s leading and she was ready to obey. We should be ready to do the same.

“Boldly I Approach” – by Rend Collective Rend Collective developed outside the influence of the music industry. They were trying to “figure out faith, life, God and community.” They strive to make their music full of fun, joy, freedom and laughter.
